THERE is no doubt that D. Garrett, at 749 North Water street, has surprised the natives. His trade in groceries, fruits, provisions, etc., has increased at a ratio never before heard of, and is due to the low prices made in every department.

JOHN RUSSELL, who was eloped and kicked at the Bateau place, did not appear in Justice Hammer's court last evening, and the parties whose arrest he had caused were discharged for want of prosecution. Russell had previously confessed that he was the principal person at fault and the whole matter dropped.

THE following conversation was overheard on a Water street car to-day: "Now, hubby dear, be sure and come early. Dear me and the girls will be in for tea, and don't forget to leave this memorandum at D. Garrett's grocery store, 749 North Water, and tell them to bring the things right up. Don't go anywhere else, for they have the best of everything, and we save money by trading there." 12-42

A TEAMSTER named Fry had an exciting adventure this morning. While crossing the street car track at the corner of Water and William streets his wagon was struck by a north bound car. The horses and wagon were piled together in a confused heap, and the driver was somewhat shaken up. When the mass was untangled it was found that the team had received very slight injuries, but the wagon was badly broken. The owner of the wagon claims that the going was not so bad until the car struck into his wagon.

CREEK MUR SET FREE

Verdict of Not Guilty in the Murder Case.

Many Ballots Taken Before an Agreement was Reached—Creekman Gone Home.

The jury in the case of The People vs. John B. Creekmur, indicted and tried for the murder of Rolla Boyd in a barn in Whitmore township April 9th, last, brought in a verdict of not guilty shortly after 11 o'clock to-day, and the defendant was promptly discharged. The jurymen were:

J. H. Myers, Long Creek. H. H. Thompson, Macon. J. H. Masterson, Decatur. W. H. Holly, Harrison. Ira Warnick, Jr., Boddy. C. L. Montgomery, Elwin. L. Stonebraker, Macon. John Carroll, Jr., Macon. W. H. Reed, Decatur. William Cole, Macon. E. B. Stover, Pleasant View. Barton Diehl, Blue Mound.

On the first ballot the jury stood 7 for acquittal, 5 for conviction. There were numerous ballots taken, but those who believed in the innocence of the defendant made no headway until this forenoon. The vote stood at 10 a. m. 10 to 2 for acquittal, and at 11 o'clock all agreed upon a verdict of not guilty, when the verdict was written out and handed by Foreman Myers to Judge Vail.

The case has been one of the most expensive trials in the history of Macon county. It has cost Creekmur over $2,000. He owns a farm valued at $3,000, with $3500 incumbrance; he also has good notes worth $1500 to $1800.

People generally have been shaking hands with Creekmur and congratulating him on his release. He took the jury to the Huff restaurant for dinner, and this afternoon he left for his home in Whitmore township.

THE COURT'S INSTRUCTIONS. The following is a synopsis of the more important instructions submitted in behalf of the defendant by Judge Vail to the jury:

On expert testimony the jury is not bound to believe their evidence any more than that of other witnesses. If you think the statements of Mrs. Boyd and her little girl regarding the running of defendant across the field has been successfully contradicted such fact removes the element of flight as an indication of guilt.

The jury is directed to disregard the opening statements of the state's attorney as to the commission of defendant with a rape on the Hart girl. No evidence has been introduced touching that point, and in the matter of sexual relations with any woman defendant stands innocent before this court.

The jury is not authorized to surmise or conjecture that defendant knew Boyd was engaged in a scheme to extort money from him. And if the jury believe that there was nothing in the information conveyed from Shipley strong enough to disturb the friendly relations previously existing between defendant and Boyd the question of motive on that score must be eliminated.

It is not enough for the jury to believe that it is more probable that defendant killed Boyd than that the station killed him. Unless you are satisfied beyond a reasonable doubt that defendant did kill him, it is your duty to acquit.

The jury are not permitted to imagine or guess that Boyd was killed by defendant. The facts and evidence in the case must point conclusively to him as the guilty one, to the exclusion of every other reasonable hypothesis or theory as to the manner of the killing.

It devolves upon the people to show that defendant had a weapon or instrument capable of accomplishing the killing with his ordinary power in the manner charged. If the jury has a reasonable doubt that defendant lacked either the power or the instrument, it is their duty to acquit.

If there exists in the minds of the jury any reasonable doubt because they believe it is uncertain whether defendant or the horse killed Boyd, then it is their sworn duty to acquit defendant.

PEOPLE'S DOCKET.

People vs. John Murphy and John Griffin; burglary and grand larceny. Continued 12 to 13.

People vs. Defendant Cattle arranged and pleaded not guilty. Attorney McIntosh appeared to defend. Stricken with leave as to cattle, who was discharged.

People vs. Enoch Knapp and Fred Helm; burglary and petit larceny. Defendants pleaded guilty to third count for petit larceny, each fined $1.00 and sentenced to the county jail 15 days.

People vs. Charles Taylor; false promises. Is dismissed; quashed and defendant discharged.

People vs. Edward Lewis; burglary. Trial by jury pending.

The Capital is $20,000.

The H. H. Brown Manufacturing company, established quite a number of years ago, has been reorganized with a paid-up capital of $20,000. ### Prerogatives of Labor Leaders.

One of the best friends organized labor has is Judge Grosscup, who charged the jury that indicted Mr. Debs, that his friendship does not take the form of the rascals who advise such organizations to trample upon the rights of others. In his charge to that jury he strongly supports the right, and declares himself to favor the right of organized labor to select leaders, and then he says:

So far and within reasonable limits associations of this character are not only not unlawful but in my judgment beneficial when the do not restrain individual liberty and are under enlightened and conscientious leadership. But they are subject to the same laws as other associations.

The leaders to whom is given the vast power of judging and acting for the members are simply in that respect their trustees. Their conduct must be judged, like that of other trustees, by the extent of their lawful authority and the good faith with which they execute it. No man in his individual right can lawfully demand and insist upon conduct by others which will lead to injury to a third person's lawful rights. The railroad carrying the mails and inter-State commerce have a right to the service of each of their employees and until such lawfully choose to quit, and any concerted action upon the part of others to demand or insist upon a penalty or threat upon their quitting, to the injury of the mail service or the prompt transportation of inter-State commerce, is a conspiracy unless such demand or insistence is in pursuance of a lawful authority conferred on them by the men themselves, and is made in good faith in execution of such authority. The demand and insistence under effective penalty or threat, to the injury of the transportation of the mails or inter-State commerce being proven, the burden falls upon those making the demand or insistence to show lawful authority and good faith in its execution.

Let me illustrate: Twelve carpenters are building a house. Aside from contract relations each can quit at leisure. A thirteenth and a fourteenth man, strangers to them, by concerted threats of holding them up to public odium or private malice induce them to quit and leave the house unfinished. The latter in no sense represent the former or their wishes, but are simply interlopers for mischief and are guilty of conspiracy against the employer of the carpenters; but if upon the trial for such results the thirteenth and fourteenth men prove that instead of being strangers they are trustees, agents of leaders of the twelve, with full power to determine for them whether their wage is such that they ought to continue or to quit, and that they have in good faith determined that question they are not then, so far as the law goes, conspirators; but if it should further appear that the supposed authority was in the interest of the twelve but to further a personal ambition or malice of the two it would no longer justify their conduct. Doing a thing under cloak of authority is not doing it with authority. The injury of the two to the employer in such an instance would only be aggravated by their treachery to the twelve, and both employer and employees should with equal insistence ask for the violation of the law.

A COSTLY RESUMPTION.

A Train Wrecked by Strikers and Four Men Killed.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., July 12.—The Southern Pacific company broke the blockade at Sacramento yesterday, and the engine that hauled the first train out lies on its back in a slough by the side of a broken bridge with three of the cars that made up the train. Under the wreck, in the slime of the stagnant water, lie the bodies of the engineer who held the throttle and three soldiers who were guarding him.

The wreck was caused by the drawing of spikes and removal of fish-joints at the end of a bridge. Three suspects have been captured.

A Feeble and Foolish Attempt at Bluff.

WASHINGTON, July 12.—Statements given out that the presence in Washington at this time of J. W. Hayes, general secretary of the Knights of Labor, and T. B. McGuire and C. A. French, of the executive committee of this order, is for the purpose of having articles of impeachment prepared and presented against Attorney-General Olney for directing the indictment and arrest of Debs, are not regarded with seriousness in any well-informed quarter. In fact, the movement is looked upon as a very feeble and foolish attempt at "bluff."

Postponed on Account of the Strike.

WATSON, Ind., July 12.—Henry W. Nordhouse, royal and select master of National Royal and Select Masters of the United States, has sent a notice postponing, on account of the strike, the triennial meeting of the General Grand Chapter of Royal Arch Masters of the United States and General Grand Council of Royal and Select Masters of the United States which was to have been held in Watson beginning July 17 until August 21.

More Men Than Money.

CHICAGO, July 12.—The General Managers' association has quit hiring men. More men than is needed have already been employed, General Manager Egan claims, and yesterday morning he wired to all points in the United States where branch employment agencies had been established, closing them. The number of men employed by the association has reached into the thousands. It is said that the Great Western has a complete outfit of new men, all its old ones having quit work.

Theater Burned.

BRECKENRIDGE, July 12.—The Summer Palace theater, which was recently opened in this city, was burned Tuesday night. The fire started after the performance was over and the audience had dispersed. No one was injured. The loss is estimated at $200,000.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., July 12.—The popular state convention yesterday nominated a full state ticket. C. M. Owen, of this city, being named for governor and A. B. Jackson as lieutenant governor.

DEATH OF C. E. SPORE.

An Old Soldier, Publisher and School Teacher Called Away.

Cyrus R. Spore, an old soldier, well known in the community as a pension attorney, died of lung trouble at 9:10 a. m. to-day at his home, No. 221 West Wood street, in the 54th year of his age. He had been in poor health ever since the war closed, contracting pneumonia in the Shenandoah Valley, as a member of the 5th Wisconsin regiment.

Cyrus R. Spore was born in Chatfield township, Crawford county, Ohio, March 4, 1841. He became a school teacher at the age of 18 years. He came to Friends Creek township, Macon county, in June, 1857, where he worked in a harvest field and taught school until 1864. He entered the Union army and remained until the close of the war. He taught school on returning to Macon county, and traveled for a Bloomington printing house. In 1870, at El Paso, he married Miss Carrie E. Sloat, located at Astoria, Ill. He was connected with the El Paso Journal and the Chenoa Times, which last named property he bought. He taught in different schools in Christian and Montgomery counties. He came to Decatur in 1880, returning to Litchfield in 1883 to engage in newspaper enterprise. He returned to Decatur with his family in 1884. During the past several years Mr. Spore has been acting as a pension attorney and has been successful in prosecuting claims. He was a member of Duham Post, No. 141, G. A. R. and of the First M. E. church. He leaves a widow and one daughter, Mrs. Lulu Lennox, of Springfield. Mrs. Jennie E. Lane of Litchfield, only sister of Mrs. Spore, is at the house of mourning.

Mrs. Spore was a noble-hearted, patriotic and generous citizen, who was sympathetic and cheerful, even when sorely afflicted.

The funeral will be held at the family residence at 1:30 p. m. July 13, conducted by Rev. D. F. Howe. The G. A. R. will attend in a body, and the remains will be taken to the train to be removed to Litchfield for burial.

Mrs. Alice Horne Married.

Decatur friends are in receipt of the information that Mrs. Alice Horne, formerly of Decatur, was recently united in marriage to Captain Ricketts at the Meadowview Farm House, near Washington City, in Virginia. The couple are now in Washington spending their honeymoon. Captain Ricketts is a venerable gentleman and is quite wealthy. The bride formerly conducted a fashionable boarding house in Decatur.

THURSDAY, JULY 12, 1894.

RAILROAD employees are like any other class of people. Among them you may find the wise and the indiscreet; as good people as there are in the world, as well as those who are unreasonable and vicious. These things should be taken into consideration by those who are forming opinion from the different things that are charged to railroad men as a class. It must be remembered that all resolutions passed, some of which are examples of supreme folly and indiscretion, are not endorsed by thinking men among them.

The worst enemy labor has is the demagogue who lies to it with the view of exciting prejudice for selfish purposes, and the best friend labor has is the man who at heart is its friend and because he is its friend speaks the truth and does what he can to prevent it following the dangerous paths pointed out by mountebanks, ignoramuses and false teachers. Every patriot is the friend of labor, but no patriot and no friend of labor will advise it to do that which will harm it or support it when it goes in the direction that is dangerous.

There are men all over the country who have followed Mr. Debs, that are now crying out that they favor arbitration and flout it as a great virtue. They forget that Mr. Debs' plans did not contemplate arbitration. They are antagonistic to arbitration. They contemplate settlement by dictation. Mr. Debs' plan proposes, on the plea of sympathy, to force out men to day who arbitrated yesterday, as he did in the case of the Northern Pacific. It proposes to violate the sacredness of contract at will. Such a scheme renders nugatory both arbitration and contract, and for these very plain reasons reasonable laboringmen all over the country are looking with grave suspicion upon the present movement.

With the view of exciting prejudice, the forgery which is alleged to be the reflections of Abraham Lincoln on the relation of capital and labor, was again published in the Chicago Times a few days ago in black type, and copied by a paper in this city, with the view of carrying favor with agitated workmen. This fraud was completely exposed in the REPUBLICAN July 2. Mr. Lincoln never uttered any such statement. The whole thing was most villainously purloined from his first message to congress in 1861, and is a mean and dishonest perversion of what he said. Mr. Lincoln discussed the relation of the rebellion to labor in that document, and from it some unscrupulous person, or persons, selected words and sentences, here and there, with the view of perverting what he did say. The newspaper that prints the falsehood on Mr. Lincoln is as guilty, morally, of the forgery as the scoundrel who committed the forgery.

Judge Grosscup's Charge to the Grand Jury.

Those who have taken the care to read Judge Grosscup's charge to the grand jury have observed, that if he expressed the law, and there is no doubt he did, we have reached an interesting period in the matter of railroad strikes. So long as these strikes were confined to particular callings among railroad men there was little need to apply the law, but when Mr. Debs undertook to stop the commerce of the country and dictate terms to the people and the government the law had to be applied, because the Debs scheme meant revolution and general disregard for the law and the courts. On this very point the Judge said:

You have been summoned here to inquire whether any of the laws of the United States within this judicial district have been violated. You have come in an atmosphere and amid circumstances that may well cause reasonable men to question whether the government and laws of the United States are yet supreme. Thanks to the result of manhood and the necessity of vindication of law before any other adjustments are possible the government of the United States is supreme. You doubtless feel as I do, that the opportunities of life, in the present conditions, are not perhaps entirely equal, and that changes are needed to forestall some of the tendencies of current industrial life; but neither the torch of the incendiary nor the inflamed tongue of him who incites to fire and the sword in the instrument to bring about reforms. To the mind of the American people, to the calm, dispassionate, sympathetic judgment of a race that is not afraid to face deep changes and responsibilities, there has as yet been no adequate appeal. Men who appear as the advocates of great changes must first submit them to discussion, discussion that reaches not simply the parties interested, but the wider circle of society, and must be patient as well as persevering until the public intelligence has been reached and the public judgment made up. An appeal to force before that hour is crime not only against the government of existing laws but against the cause itself for which men of high intelligence suppose that any settlement will be made which is induced under the light of the torch of the shadow of an overpowering threat?

No one, perhaps, believes that the object of Mr. Debs in organizing this new order was to revolutionize more than the different railroad labor organizations. He expected to wipe them all out and absorb them into one great union, of which he would be chief. Indeed, it has been confessed that in the present strike he did not expect the interference of the federal government. If he did not expect it, it follows that he did not intend to revolutionize the government; but the effect of the strike proved in the very outset to put him in the position of a violator of federal law and an insurrectionist. In speaking of the application of the law Judge Grosscup said to the jury:

The Constitution places the regulation of commerce between the several States and between the States and foreign nations within the keeping of the United States Government. Anything which is designed to be transported, for commercial purposes, from one State into another, and is actually in transit, and any passenger who is actually engaged in such interstate commerce, transaction, and any car or carriage actually transporting or engaged to transport such passenger or thing, are the agencies and subject matter of interstate commerce; and any conspiracy in restraint of such trade or commerce is an offense against the United States. To restrain it to prohibit, limit, confine or abridge a thing.

Further on the Judge defines criminal conspiracy in this respect to be as follows.

What is criminal conspiracy? If it shall appear to you that any two or more persons corruptly or wrongfully agree with each other that the trains carrying the mails and interstate commerce should be forcibly arrested, obstructed and restrained, such would clearly constitute a conspiracy. If it shall appear to you that two or more persons wrongfully agree with each other that the employees of the several railroads carrying the mails and interstate commerce should be threatened, intimidated or violence be prevented from taking their places, such would constitute a criminal conspiracy.

Chief Arthur. Sargent, Wilkinson and other railroad employee leaders, who are wiser than Mr. Debs, foresaw what high scheme would lead to, and have constantly advised those under their control to take no part in it. They were powerless to control Mr. Debs, and he went on blindly until he was brought to a stand still by colliding with the general government, which stands for all the people, instead of a single class or classes. Those who read the law, as defined by Judge Grosscup, can reach but one conclusion, and that is that its application will revolutionize the past system of railroad strikes, and will entirely destroy the object of the Debs organization, which is intended to tie up commerce on the most trivial grounds.

THEIR NEW SYSTEM.

So many thousands are already acquainted with this new mode of treatment that it is only necessary to say by this method an equilibrium of the vital powers is at once established and an equalization of the circulation maintained. Thus nature is enabled to throw off the effete matter. Medicine will act like a charm, and health at once ensue, if the case be a curable one.

Their experience in the Great Medical Schools and Hospitals of Europe and this country, together with their extensive special practice, enables them to treat the diseases they make their specialty understandingly and with phenomenal success. They do not claim to cure everything, like some physicians. Bear this in mind. Call and see for yourself. They do not practice deception. They use nothing but the latest and most improved treatment in foreign hospitals—nearly all medicines new.

The Greatest of All Gifts—The Power of Diagnosing Diseases.

They know they are the greatest diagnosticians in the world. They have a national reputation for diagnosing the most complicated diseases.

By their keen perception and intuition they are enabled to fathom the most complicated diseases and reveal to the sick the true fountain and cause of their suffering, where other physicians have failed and were groping in darkness.

By their correct understanding of each and every case, they are enabled to cure hundreds of diseases given up by the general practitioner.

CATARRH.—This disease, which is generally considered incurable by the general practitioner and receives only temporary benefit from his remedies, is speedily and permanently cured by their famous Germicidal treatment. They rarely find a case they cannot cure.

Over 10,000 Cured of Nervous, Chronic, Throat and Catarrhal Diseases in Ten Years.—They treat Eye, Ear, Nose, Throat troubles, Ringing in Ears, Catarrhal deafness, Stomach, Liver, Kidney, Bladder and Female diseases, Eruptions, Skin troubles, Epilepsy, Seminal Weakness, Night Losses, Nervous Exhaustion, General and Local Debility, etc. They restore Impaired Vital Energy, Invigorate the Debilitated Constitution, Stimulate the Organic Action, Promote the Circulation and Renew that Vital Energy, the loss of which is the symptom of decay.

What is it? and How Do They Do it? are Questions Asked by Hundreds of People.—They can refer you to hundreds of persons whom they have treated and cured. If you have been humbugged or badly treated, do not wait for a more convenient season, but come at once and put their wonderful powers to the test. You will never regret it. Remember the date.

Consultation Private and FREE to All.

They will treat you honestly, and positively will not throw out any false hopes nor talk you over if they cannot cure you. If your case is incurable they will frankly and honestly tell you so; also caution you against spending money for medicines which impostors usually suggest. Charges shall be reasonable and within the reach of all.

FAIL TO PRODUCE A HARVEST OF DEATH

In an Indiana Town Only Because of the Timely Discovery of Bombs Implanted by a Baker for His Employer's Place of Business.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., July 12.—The police yesterday found two dynamite bombs among the belongings of a Jew named Wolf Goldberg who came here from Chicago several months ago and obtained employment among his own race as a baker. He went to work for Abram Garber about four weeks ago, but according to Garber he worked in the interest of the business rival by spilling the batches of bread and ruining his sale.

Garber therefore discharged him last Friday, but he refused to go, and said he would blow up the shop and kill any one that took his place. He returned for three successive days and abused Garber with epithets and threats. Seizing a long-bladed knife used by bakers he assaulted Garber, but was kept from doing him much harm.

Garber then determined to have him arrested, and, after swearing out the warrant yesterday, he went into the room lately occupied by Goldberg and found the bombs bulging from the pockets of trousers left behind. He says Goldberg talked constantly of anarchy, and when Garber was assaulted he refused to go, and said he would blow up the shop and kill
any one that took his place. He re-

WILL RETALIATE.

The Recently-Arrested Leaders of the Great Strike

WILL THEMSELVES INVOKE THE LAW

Against the Members of the Railway Managers' Association—The Arrest of Attorney-General Olney Also Hinted at—Strike Situation.

CHICAGO, July 11.—The most important development in the labor situation during the past twenty-four hours is the announcement made to-night from the headquarters of American Railway union, that a determined effort is to be made to invoke the laws against the members of the General Managers' association, and that, with this end in view, a conference will be had to-morrow between W. W. Erwin, of Pittsburgh, the principal counsel for the men arrested for participation in the Homestead riots, and a number of local attorneys who have made the laws of the United States relative to illegal combination and conspiracy a special study. Mr. Erwin, so it is authoritatively stated, is now on the way to Chicago, in company with a prominent member of the Knights of Labor who was sent from this city to enlist his services in behalf of the union.

This move on behalf of the striking element receives additional weight from the general impression that prevailed around the federal court section of the government building to-day, and which was tentatively endorsed by Judge Grosscup and District Attorney Milchrist, that justice would be meted out impartially to all violators of the federal statutes, whether they were railroad presidents or railroad brakemen.

When Judge Grosscup was asked to-day whether the special grand jury was impelled simply to inquire into the offenses of these employees or whether it was within its scope to inquire into probable violations of the law by railroad managers, Judge Grosscup significantly replied that he had no doubt that when the body should have finished the particular matter it is now investigating it would turn its attention to others who may have violated the law and that it would so widen the scope of its inquiry as to include all persons who may have interfered with or obstructed interstate commerce or the United States mails in any way or by any means. This reply is regarded as a diplomatic hint, so framed as not to violate the judicial dignity, that the grand jury has only commenced its work, and that it may be asked to consider the question to whether or not the railroad managers have committed any offense bringing them within the pale of the statutes that have been invoked against the leaders of the strike. It is known, moreover, that this question was most vigorously debated in the session of the grand jury yesterday that preceded the return of true bills against Debs and his associates, and that at least two of the body insisted vigorously that George M. Pullman himself should be included in the indictment. Counsel for the strikers as well as Mr. Debs and his colleagues are silent concerning the actual grounds upon which process will be sought against those whom they characterize as their "opponents."

In a general way, however, the claim is made that the obstruction of the United States mail and the interruption to interstate commerce has been due quite as much to the general managers as to the men responsible for the ordering of the strike, and that while it is true that the boycott was ordered it is also true that the general managers agreed among themselves that no trains should be run on any of the roads until all had gained the points in dispute, and that, as a consequence, many roads that were inclined to deal directly with their employees and thus bring about a resumption of traffic on their own lines were whipped into the traces.

The indictments returned yesterday against the union men were, it is understood, based almost entirely upon the contents of certain telegrams that a telegraph company was compelled to produce, and a charge is made—and this will form a portion of the statement to be made by the federal authorities in behalf of the arrested men—that an other enforcement of a similar order by the General Managers' association, that on their part point to illegal methods, if any such methods have existed, as the dispatches which were produced before the grand jury yesterday. These are the straws that came from the strikers' headquarters, but which have not been embodied in an official statement. The members of the General Managers' association claim that they are willing that their every action should be thoroughly and impartially investigated. They contend that they were not the aggressors, that the fight was forced on them and not by them, and that they have done nothing more than to protect to the best of their ability the properties over which they have control. They have neither violated the statutes relating to the transportation of mails nor those governing interstate commerce, but from beginning to end, they have simply acted on the defensive, with the aid and support that has been afforded by the United States government.

Peace and quiet were maintained throughout the city to-day. It was a welcome relief from the tension of yesterday, and especially in view of the fact that the general tie-up ordered by the various trades might result in filling the streets with sympathetic strikers and serious disorder being possibly provoked. There were fewer white ribbons to be seen to-day, and ten times as many patriotic emblems. Many banks and other institutions and buildings, not content with hoisting the Stars and Stripes on their roofs, decorated their ground floor fronts with monster flags.

The military encampments on the lake front and at the government building attracted crowds, but they were eminently good natured and chatted sociably and with heartiness with the regulars that were off duty and mixed with them.

At the stock yards the blockade was effectively broken. Business was resumed on every road and all was hustle and bustle in the miles of pens and along the tracks. The first incoming cattle train in two weeks steamed into the yards at daybreak, and by 4 o'clock sixty-nine cars of live stock were brought in by the Burlington & Quincy, forty by the Northwestern and fifty by the Santa Fe.

The military were on guard at every important point, but there was no need of its service. For the twenty-four hours ending this evening not a single fire or police alarm was turned in from the district, and Police Captain O'Neil, who is in command of the district, officially reports that the police are in full command of the situation and that there appears to be no further use for the troops. At the same time any attempt to withdraw the latter will be met by the general opposition of the packers and other business interests, and even if present conditions should continue for several days to come it will be regarded as necessary to hold the military in reserve.

A MISTAKE CORRECTED.

Debs' Papers to be Returned with Proper Acknowledgments and Disclaimer.

WASHINGTON, July 12.—The action of Judge Grosscup, of Chicago, yesterday, in directing that Debs' papers, seized Tuesday night, be returned to him, was the result of a telegram sent to Special Assistant District Attorney Walker yesterday morning. Attorney-General Olney, upon reading the United Press dispatches of the seizure, immediately dictated this telegram, took it over to the president at the White House and filed it himself at 11 o'clock.

Edward Walker, Counselor at Law, Walker & Eddy, Chicago.

Seizure of Debs' papers, if not according to law, should be publicly disavowed and the papers at once returned. Even if the seizure be strictly and technically lawful, papers should be returned. The government, in enforcing the law, cannot afford to be itself wrong; nor even if they be within its strict right, such measures be resorted to which are unusual and come dangerously near invasion of personal rights. The government is too strong and its cause too righteous to warrant or require anything of that nature. Please write at once what has taken place and what is done in pursuance of these instructions.

(Signed) OLNEY, Attorney General.

The President's Action Indorsed.

WASHINGTON, July 12.—In the senate, Mr. Daniel's substitute for Mr. Peffer's resolution was modified and then adopted without division. It indorses the prompt and vigorous measures adopted by the president of the United States and the members of his administration in repelling and repressing by military force, the interference of lawless men with the due process of the laws of the United States and with the transportation of the mails, and with commerce among the states.

Dignified and Vigorous.

CHICAGO, July 12.—The following resolutions were adopted by a special meeting of the directors of the board of trade yesterday:

Resolved, By the board of directors of the board of trade, in a special session assembled, that the dignified and vigorous action of the chief executive of the United States in calling out the national forces for the suppression of the strike, and the maintenance of law, and for the protection of interstate commerce and of the United States mail, deserves and hereby receives the unqualified admiration and approval of the board, and indorses every loyal American with renewed confidence in the stability of our government.

To Investigate the Strike.

WASHINGTON, July 12.—The house committee on interstate and foreign commerce yesterday, after several hours' debate, decided to recommend the appointment of a committee to investigate the present labor trouble. The resolution simply provides that a committee be appointed to investigate the strike so far as it affects interstate commerce. It will have no reference to the cause of the strike.

Federal of a Victim of the Strike.

CHICAGO, July 12.—The funeral of Striker Anselmy, who was shot by Deputy Marshal Sharp in the recent riot at Kensington took place yesterday at 1:30. Fully 1,500 men were present, and the funeral procession and the march were lined with friends of the man. Much feeling was exhibited, but beyond that no demonstration was made.

True to Their Flag.

CHICAGO, July 12.—The national commander called home Army and Navy uniforms there will be a letter to the secretary at the park to the service.

THE ENDEAVORERS.

Gathering of the White-Capped Hosts at Cleveland, O.

A VERY LARGE CONVENTION ASSURED.

The City by the Lake in Gala Attire to Receive Her Honored Guests—The Venerable President Too Ill to Attend.

CLEVELAND, O., July 12.—Cleveland was gayly dressed in yellow and white, and red, white and blue yesterday morning, when delegates to the big Christian Endeavor convention began arriving in force. Nearly every store, shop and other business establishment in town was profusely decorated, either upon the outer walls or in the windows, the effect being beautiful and inspiring. Almost every big business block had streamers of white and yellow, or red, white and blue floating in the breeze, and the windows of dry goods stores were fitted with white and yellow silks and satins, the Christian Endeavor colors. The streets were well filled with people wearing badges, white caps and other distinguishing regalia.

At the various railway stations and steamship wharves the members of the reception committees were to be found in force at the break of day and they continued at their stations until relieved by others. Many young ladies had been appointed as members of the reception committee and they, with their fluffy dresses, their jaunty caps, their winsome faces and their gay laughter, did much to brighten the dingy depots and the dismal-looking docks along the river.

The scare on account of the strike interfering with the plans of intending visitors has blown over to some degree, and while the attendance will undoubtedly be cut down to a considerable extent, still the convention will be a very large one. Big delegations came from Detroit, Toledo and Buffalo by boat and every train was crowded. Besides these a number of specials came in bearing visitors from points east, west and south. Last night it was estimated that from 12,000 to 15,000 had arrived.

A source of genuine regret is the unavoidable absence of the venerable president and founder of the society, Rev. Francis E. Clark, of Boston. President Clark left his summer home in Maine last week with the intention of joining the delegation from Boston and coming to the convention. He was taken ill with nervous prostration, however, and his physicians forbade him undertaking the journey. If he stays quietly at home and rests, no serious results from his illness are anticipated. President Clark sent a letter full of love and encouragement to be read in the convention. The letter is as follows:

To the Christian Endeavorers Assembled in Cleveland.

MY DEAR FRIENDS—It is perhaps the bitterest disappointment of my life to be obliged to stay away from the international convention. For months I have looked forward to it with the keenest anticipation, and for the last few days have agonized against the possibility of my being unable to attend. I am now in the great straits threatened to disengage our plans and reduce our numbers. I have been more than ever anxious and determined to go. But my physicians eminent authority—at the last moment forbids my going, and assures me that I should only go at the risk of my life. I am sorry to hear of the case of the Christian Endeavor, but a few weeks' rest now will enable me to take up my work with full vigor, a kind Providence permitting. The illness is the result of the overwork of the past few years. But enough of personal matters.

The convention will not suffer by my absence. For my associates, who are devoted to all my place and do all that I could do. I shall pray that every hour of the convention may be a blessed hour, an hour of the triumph of the Saviour, and of inspiration to every endeavor.

My special thought concerning our work for the coming year is found in the president's annual address.

My love to every one of you.

"God be with you till we meet again."

Your friend,

F. E. CLARK.

Rolls were held in fifteen churches last night. They were largely attended. Among the speakers were Rev. Canon J. B. Richardson, London, Ont.; "Woman's Missionary Endeavor" Rev. James Burrell, D. D., New York city; "Aeson and Media" Mrs. M. Alden (Parson) Washington, D. C.; a story written for the occasion, "A Christian Endeavor Revenger" Rev. J. Lester Wells, Jersey City, N. J.; "Christian Endeavor Among Life Savers" Rev. Harry C. Farrar, Albany, N. Y.; "Grit and Grace" Mrs. Francis J. Barnes, New York city; "Joel's Prophecy" Rev. Charles A. Dickinson, Boston; "The Life that Tells" Rev. B. E. Groce, Chicago; "Christian Endeavor and Christian Citizenship" Rev. George Dana Boardman, D. D., Philadelphia; "St. Paul's Endeavor" Miss A. P. Jones, Fallmouth, Mass.; "The Working Society of Christian Endeavor" Mrs. Ellen J. Phinney, Cleveland; "Golden Opportunities" Anthony Comstock, New York city; "Environment of Young Men" Rev. J. H. Prugh, Pittsburgh; "Brotherhood of Andrew and Philip" H. B. Sherman, Chicago; "The Student Volunteer Movement."

The trustees of the society held a meeting last evening to determine upon the meeting places for 1895 and to select a favorable for a Pacific coast convention. It is probable that the meeting will be held in San Francisco and on workmanlike a board of trustees will be organized. The past year has been a thick to one on hand of the Most High, and we are glad to see that the outside walls are being repaired. There is a light in the sky, and a key to the building is being turned. The second day of the convention was found on his person. King was locked up in the marshal's cage and will have a hearing before Commissioner Hoyne.

Serious Charges Against a United States Deputy Marshal.

CHICAGO, July 12.—W. J. King, a United States deputy marshal who has been serving at Blue Island, was brought a prisoner to Marshal Arnold's office yesterday, charged with looting freight cars on the Wabash railroad. King was found on his person. King was locked up in the marshal's cage and will have a hearing before Commissioner Hoyne.

forward movements are only the outgrowth of the pledge and the intention of the society, and the work for the Master which always has and always will characterize Christian Endeavor as fundamental and essential features. The growth of the society in other lands has been quite as encouraging as in our own country. In England the advance has been phenomenal, a hundred societies recently being added in a single week, and the convention recently held in London was an extraordinary success, and as characteristically Christian endeavor as any ever held in this country.

In China the news has just come that at a recent Christian Endeavor gathering in Shanghai more people were present than a veteran missionary has ever seen in a Chinese Christian gathering. The meeting was a "revelation" to many of the English-speaking friends, who had no idea there were so many capable native Christians in Shanghai.

A recent mail brought news that in Japan there are now fifty-seven fully-equipped Christian Endeavor societies, and that they are to hold their next national convention in Tokyo while we are holding ours in Cleveland. From India we hear that the constitution has been translated into six languages. The young people's society connected with the church missionary society of Christian endeavor has voluntarily given up its name for the Christian Endeavor, so that on the whole, the work of the society is still progressing, and there is still much to encourage and cheer us.

The state conventions this year, with but few exceptions, have been larger, more cheerful, and attended by better results, I believe, than ever before. May the coming year show that the blessing of God is resting upon our efforts in even larger measure, and that we may be guided in all things to know and do His will.

FIFTY-THIRD CONGRESS.

(First Session.)

WASHINGTON, July 10.—Three of the annual appropriation bills were passed by the senate to-day, without discussion, and with little more than a perfunctory reading. The appropriation bill for the civil service, the invalid pension and the military academy bills. The pension bill appropriated a round $150,000,000.

If the senate had not been in an exceptionally indolent or tolerant disposition, perhaps the result of the great strain to which it was subjected during the long and exhausting tariff struggle, it might have discussed such a bill for a couple of days. But the only discussion which the bill evoked was the delivery of two short speeches of Senators Cullum and Gallinger in criticism of the democratic administration of the control of railroads and kindred subjects, and on Senator Daniel's substitute for it, indorsing and commending the course of the president and the administration in dealing with the great railroad strike, was short and free from any exciting incidents.

Mr. Daniel proposed to-day, as an addition to his substitute declaring the adherence of the senate to the principle of arbitration and its condemnation of the refusal to arbitrate, given by one of the parties to the struggle (meaning the Pullman Palace Car Co.). This proposition met with such warm opposition and resistance from the republican side of the chamber, which wished action confined to an indorsement of the executive, that Mr. Daniel withdrew it and even modified the resolution which he had offered on Tuesday so that it simply indorses the prompt and vigorous measures adopted to repel and repulse the interference of lawless men with the due process of the laws of the United States, with the transportation of the mails and with commerce, and declares that the action of the president and his administration has the full sympathy and support of the law-abiding masses of the people, and will be supported by all the departments of the government, and by the resources of the entire nation.

Mr. Daniel's resolution, as modified, was adopted without a division.

The senate adjourned at 5:15.
